BUYERS ARE COMING IN.

All Differences Adjusted In the Tobacco Market.

ALL IS HARMONY NOW.

Benefit Will Be Permanent
Now That Fight Is Won.

Announcement is made by an official of the Dark District Association that all differences between the tobacco buyers and the Association have been adjusted.

The buyers are coming in from all directions and paying fair and remunerative prices for tobacco held by the Association. The long fight is practically won and the planters of the dark district can price their own tobacco.

Sales so far on the Hopkinsville market have been mainly of low grades of tobacco, but these grades have brought nearly double the prices paid last year. Many farmers are getting more money for their lugs than they did for the best leaf last season.

The ridiculously low prices of last year meant starvation. We will see no more of this condition of affairs. The buying contingent will soon adjust themselves to conditions and all will be happy again.

The farmers have shown a wonderful degree of patience and self-denial. It just took that and firmness to win as they have done. They have fought the strongest trust and money power on this continent. They have had to fight all buying interests wherever located and without a dollar in the organization, all on faith.

TABERNACLE LECTURE COURSE

Hopkinsville People Appreciate Good Entertainments.

WE MUST ALL UNITE.

Nothing But Superior Attractions the Coming Season.

Last winter our people enjoyed the best series of entertainments ever presented at the Tabernacle. The Tabernacle representatives of each congregation in the city very wisely elected Mr. H. L. McPherson manager and empowered him to arrange for a season course of popular and respectable entertainments, with the view of at least paying accumulated interest on the debt hanging over the Tabernacle. Mr. McPherson proved equal to the occasion.

Again has he undertaken to do the will of the Tabernacle Board. He has formulated his plans and secured a number of entertainments, a list of which was published a short time since. For the coming course he reports fine success thus far in selling course tickets and is reaching out to the people in the country who will enjoy the good things in store for them and will need no urging to buy season tickets when the matter is properly brought to their attention.

All who hold season tickets get advantage of the extra numbers, which are promised if the season ticket sale will justify the outlay. If two extras are given, this will reduce the cost per attraction to the holder of season tickets to just 20 cents each, and this should be quite an inducement to all to lay the matter before their friends, as by this small outlay you help the sale of tickets, help yourself also. Mr. McPherson promises that the extras, if given, will be fully up to the standard of the other numbers on the course.

Last year about 425 season tickets were sold. This year 800 must be sold to "pay out," as the course will cost about twice the amount paid last year. Now let's all get together on this proposition, as we are all interested, and a good course should be supported here, and the 800 tickets easily sold.

BEET CULTURE

Attracts Several Kentucky Farmers to Colorado.

Quite a crowd of farmers from Christian, Trigg and Todd counties left Tuesday for Ordway, Colo. Mr. Geo. S. Wharton and Garrett Sallee have already made arrangements to locate and engage in sugar beet culture, which promises a net profit of from $70 to $100 an acre. With them went as prospectors Messrs. D. M. Butler, Robt. Fite, Bep Rutherford, John Robinson and Peyton Day, of Todd county, and Matt Winfree, of Casky. Mr. Winfree has sold his fine farm near Casky, known as the Roberts place, for $15,000 to Mr. Hugh F. Hancock, of Union county. The price was $53 an acre. He may also buy a beet farm in Colorado.

Mr. Wharton is a son-in-law of Mr. Winston Henry, of Casky. His wife and child will go to Colorado as soon as he can build a house on the farm he expects to buy.

$5.00 SHOES FOR $2.50.

The above sounds unreasonable, but as sure as "gun's iron" it's literally true. The United States government is changing its army uniform from tan shoes to black, and are disposing of all stocks on hand. We were fortunate enough to get 1200 pairs; sizes 7, 8's, 9's and 10's only, in A, B, C, D and E widths. These shoes are all lace-made on a plain wide toe, very flexible welt soles, made especially for service and comfort on long marches. Every particle of leather that goes into these shoes was cut out of the heart of the hide. You can't find a piece of flanky or spongy leather as big as your thumb nail in the entire 1200 pairs. Every pair has the name of three United States Government Inspectors stamped on the sole, heel and inner-sole, showing the rigid inspection every shoe must pass before it is accepted.

It is the greatest shoe opportunity we have ever offered since we have been in the shoe business, and the people will not be slow to accept it. We received these shoes on Monday morning, October 16, and during the day sold over 200 pairs, and the first letter we opened this morning, Tuesday, was an order for four pairs from Mr. R. D. Glover, of Trenton. We mention the above merely to prove to you that it will be unwise to delay if you would like to have a pair of Uncle Sam's army shoes worth $5.00 for $2.50.
